WELCOME BACK FROM SPRING BREAK!

Thank you to everyone who attended the negotiation event with MIT Alumni Paul Levy (’72) and Farzana Mohamed (’99)! Special thanks to the Internal Relations Department for hosting the event. If you were not able to attend, but still interested in learning about techniques for negotiating, many of the topics discussed at the event and more are contained in their book, “How to Negotiate Your First Job: 8 Steps that will create value for you and your new employer.”

Sophomores and freshmen interested in a career in finance should consider applying to Bank of America Merrill Lynch’s 2015 Careers Connection Learning Seminar. The seminar will take place in Boston on April 17th, and participants will have the opportunity to sharpen their technical aptitude, understand the impact of financial news and begin to build valuable networks. For more information and to apply, please see: https://bacfhrs.taleo.net/careersection/4/jobdetail.ftl?lang=en&job=1500014888.

If you have any questions or suggestions for future events, please reach out to the Corporate Relations Department at wbl-cr@mit.edu.

Thanks again,
The Corporate Relations Department
