MAY

May 5: Jane Street Assistant Trader Internship Deadline. Apply at www.janestreet.com/apply.

May 6: Exploring the Innovator's DNA, 12-1pm. A complimentary live webinar with Hal Gregersen, innovation expert. Gregersen will discuss: What separates the disruptors from the disrupted, the five skills every innovator should have, and why better questions lead to better answers and more! Register at <http://ow.ly/LrMbW>.

May 7: Techstars Program Deadline. Techstars is looking for individuals with both technical abilities - computer science, engineering, or design - and entrepreneurship spirit, to be part of our upcoming program in June. It is an intense 3 month program (June - Sept) where we help 12 of the hottest startups from around the world build, take to market and scale their companies. Part of the resources we provide are hackstars - the individuals mentioned above - to help the startups build, launch and scale their technology. The value for hackstars is the opportunity to working alongside the founders (CEO, CTO, dev team) to build the next disruptive company, enhance their portfolio, and getting hands on experience with early stage, accelerating startups. They will also spend a lot of time learning about startups - what makes them success and fail - as well as rub elbows with successful entrepreneurs and VCs in Boston and abroad. Many hackstars end up joining the companies at the end of the program, or go on to become founders themselves (we encourage them to complete their studies first, of course!) Broader description here: <http://www.techstars.com/hackstars/>.
